PRACTICE TIP

Depending on the extent and timing of the proposed supplemental brief, the court may require striking the opening brief and filing a new, corrected brief in its place. Check with the clerk's office, the ADI staff attorney, and the ADI website page on Fourth District practice at http://www.adi-sandiego.com/practice/fourth\_dist.asp under "Briefs". All divisions of the Fourth Appellate District do not accept errata filings (letters or motions pointing out errors in a previous filing and purporting to correct them). See ADI's August 2016 News Alert. See also section II.C.2. of ADI's Guide to Motion Practice.

MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

A party may file supplemental briefing with the permission of the Presiding Justice of the Court of Appeal. (Cal. Rules of Court, rules 8.200(a)(4), 8.360(a) [and 8.412(a)(1)].)

[Provide sufficiently detailed explanation of reason for supplemental brief: issue sought to be included, why it was omitted, etc.]

Appellate counsel has an obligation to raise meritorious claims of error on appeal. (Anders v. California (1967) 386 U.S. 738, 743-744 [87 S.Ct. 1396, 18 L.Ed.2d 493]; People v. Johnson (1981) 123 Cal.App.3d 106, 111.) Meritorious claims include those of sufficient substance to have a reasonably strong potential for obtaining reversal or other relief or for making new law. (People v. Johnson, supra, at p. 111; People v. Von Staich (1980) 101 Cal.App.3d 172, 175.)

The defendant's right to effective assistance of appointed appellate counsel requires that, when a meritorious claim of error is omitted from the initial briefing, counsel take steps to present that claim of error to the reviewing court in supplemental briefing. (See In re Smith (1970) 3 Cal.3d 192, 202-204.)

Neither justice nor judicial economy is served by refusing supplemental briefing and consequently failing to consider the issue properly on appeal. Later writ proceedings and claims of ineffective assistance of appellate counsel or other grounds for collateral attack are costly, indirect, duplicative, and less effective than proper appellate processes in the first place. When the trigger for such an attack can be prevented before it occurs, the parties, the court, and the public all benefit.
